

Community Cohesion: Challenging The Politics Of 'Us' & 'Them'

Venue: The Midpoint Suite
(new Aagrah Conference Venue next to
Bradford Odeon Cinema on Thornbury Roundabout)
The Aagrah Building, Midpoint
Thornbury, Bradford. BD3 7AY

Date: Wednesday 3rd June 2009

Time: 10.00 a.m. - 4.00 p.m.

Shami Chakrabarti

Karen Chouhan

Shami Chakrabarti, Director of Liberty and Karen Chouhan, Director of Equanomics UK critique the community cohesion policy and assess the impact of its legacy on Black and Minority Ethnic communities and civil liberties in the UK.

In the face of some of the more negative impacts of the community cohesion policy on BME communities, the event aims to create a momentum which challenges the government to consider alternative approaches which foreground civil liberty, racial justice and equality.

Participants will have the opportunity to shape the debate in a series of afternoon workshops.

Places will be offered on a first come first served basis once a booking form and payment is received.

Joint Organisers:

Joseph Rowntree Charitable Trust,
Joseph Rowntree Foundation,
JUST West Yorkshire and Oxfam UK.
